The Barefoot Boy.

"Bleedings on thee, Ittile man? Barvfoot boy with abseks of tan And the merry whistled tunes; With the sunshine on thy face, Through the torn brim's januty grace. O for hogherd's paintees play-Sleep that wakes in laughing day? Realth that masks the ductor's rules Exceeding never learned in schools, How the robin fools her young; How the ociole's next is living; Where the whitest liller blow; Where the freshest berries grow; Where the ground ant trails its vine; Where the wood-grape's clusters shine For, excheming books and tasks, Natigo survers all he saks. Hand in hand with ber he walks ; Part and pures of her Joy, to the bowhood's time of Jone. When all things I heard or saw, I was rich in flowers and trees, unming birds and honey-been Laughed the brook for my delight Through the day and through the night; Whispering at the garden wall, Talked with me from fall to fall. Mine the sand-rimmed pickerel-pood; Mine the walnut slopes beyond; Mine on bending orthard trees Apples of Hasperides I. Then, my festal dainties spread, liow) of wilk and wedge of bread, Powter spone and bowl of wood; On the doorsetons gray and rude; Cloudy gibbed the spaset best; Purple certain fringed with gold, Looped in many a wide swung fold; I was monarch—pomp and Joy

A malting sermon being preached in a country church, all tell a-weeping but one man, who, when asked why he did not weep with the rest, said "Oh! I belong to another parish."

- What makes you look so glum, Tom?" "Oh, I had to endure a sad trial to my feelings." "What on earth was it?" "Why, I had to tie on a pretty girl's bonnet with her mother looking." It looks bad to see a dog preceeding his master down the street, and calmly turn down the stairs to the first saloon be approaches. It shows there is something wrong, something lacking, a deplorable tendency on the part of the dog.

A lawyer once neked a hotel-keeper the following questions: "If a man gives you a hundred pounds to keep for him, and dies, what do you do? Do you pray for him?" "No, sir," replied the landlord, " I pray for another just like him."

A colebrated judge, who stooped very much in walking, had a stone thrown at him one day, which fortunately passed over him without hitting him. Turning to his triend, he remarked : " Had I been an opright judge, that might have caused toy death."

An old Connecticut person, whose peculiarties of preaching were proverbial, and who was blessed with a temper of great value, was one day told by a purchasser that he did not like his earmons. Well," said the old man, "I don't wonder at it.

WHEN the new German Landstorm bill becomes law, the present rolers of Germany will have committed her to an increase of armamon which, when effected, will raise the disposable force of the Empire to 2,800,000 men. France now commands, under all heads, about 1,750,000 A GENT of Bremen Board of Underwriters, men, Rassia more than 3,330,000, and Austria, Italy, Denmark, Holland and Switzerland are arming as fast as they can. In opening the Swedish Rigedag, too, the King proposed to reorganize the army and navy, and to establish compalsory military service.

STORY .- And, by the way, the "mystery" about this investigation reminds us of one of Dan Bryant's stories. He remarked to the other "end man" that he had "a mystery up to his house." "What was it?" was eagerly asked. "Well, I bought a barrel of pork day before yesterday, and yesterday morning, when I went down to get some pork for breakfast, I found there was no pork in sight, rolled up my sleeve and put my arm way down into de brine and felt all around to de bottom, and there was no pork anywhere. Then I tipped up de barrel, and found dat de blasted rats had gnawed a hole through de bottom and took out all de pork." " That's a very likely story," says the other "end man." "How did de rats get de pork without letting out de brine?" To which Bryant replied triumphantly, "Dat's de mystery." We should like to see Mr. Irwin's " mystery" cleared up a little further .-N. P. Mail.

Animals and Firearms.-That crows and many other species of birds bade little fear of man when he is unarmed is a familiar fact, and Si suggests that they fear him because of the weapons he carries. In Scotland, where shooting was prohibited on Sunday, crows and rooks were gen tle, and fed around the buildings without concern. Singularly enough the same thing was observed of animals by Dr. Tristram when traveling in the wilderness of Monb, where the sound of a gun is rare. He says: "We were struck with the sagacity which all the animals showed in the matter of firearms, little familiar as they can be with them here. As it was Sunday, we strolled or sat down among the rains without our fawling pieces. and were consequently objects of indifference. A fine fox sat and looked at us a dozen times among the stone-heaps, and just walked away, keeping almost within gaushot all the afternoon. The Sakkr falcon sat calmly on his favorite perch and allowed us to reconnoitre him on Sunday, while the eagles, owls, sandgrouse and partridges The Irish are a hopeful people; they always try showed a similar contempt for unarmed Europeans."-From Popular Science Monthly.

MRS. WATSON, the wife of Professor Watson, of Michigan University, (says one of our Eastern Exchange papers,) is probably the only woman who enjoyed the privilege of going on the Transit Expedition from the United States. She had to go on a long journey, but was probably rewarded by her visit to countries which few American men and fewer women ever get an opportonity to see. First there was an overland journey to San Francisco, then a voyage, lasting twentysix days, to Yokohama, a four days' sail to Nagasaki, and another of six days to Tien-Tsin. Then followed a voyage up the river on small house boats to Tung-Chang, and, finally, a donkey ride of sixteen miles to the imperial city of Peking. Prof. Watson, while at Peking awaiting the transit, discovered a new asteroid. He did not name "We can understand why the draggists do not it after his wife, but after a Chinese goddess (Neclear their fronts. People must live. But we Wah) who once repaired the sky when it was in a dilapidated condition, and has thereby earned the respect of astronomers. Mrs. Watson is undoubtedly fortunate, but she is not the only woman permitted to witness the somewhat unusual liberty which Venus took with the Sun. The wife of Prot. George Davidson of this city, accompanied him to Japan, and shared with him the pleasure and honor of one of the most successful of all the recent observations .- S. F. Butletin.

AABON BURN'S DAUGHTER.—The old story of the sad fate of Asron Burr's daughter is brought to mind in the narrative of Jean Baptiste Callistre, one of Lafitte's men residing in Calcasies Louisiana, who writes to the Galveston News that after Lafitte abandoned his adventurous career. Chauvet, his first lieutenant, took command of the Vengeance and sailed into the gulf for a cruise. He captured the American privateer schooner Patriot, bound from Georgetown, South Carolina, to New York. Every person on board was put to the sword or made food for the sharks. After disposing of the dead Chanvet descended into the cabin, and soon called out in an angry. tone for Callistre and the mate to go to him. They found him in the cabin confronted by a beautiful woman who held an empty bottle in her hand, with which she had struck Chanvet, who had attempted to make too free with her He ordered them to tie her hand and foot, conver her on board of the Vengeance and place her in his cabin. She fought the men and did all she could to jump overboard. Callistre says she died a few days after their arrival in Galveston. She was a very handsome woman, and the daughter of a distinguished American. Her clothing, which was of the finest material, was marked "T. A." and she had a golden locket containing the portrait of a beautiful boy. On the locket were "No. Sam," was the raply, " Nebber | the words, "To my wife Theodosia." She was prayed in my life." "Well, can't you sing a buried on the island, a few hundred yards to the bome " "No. Sam; don't know no hymn." east of the old fort on the point. This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the decauged functions, and eliminates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons teatify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical uses extol its virtues most extensively, using it in great quantities in the following diseases: —Coulers, Dysuctory, Diarrhou, Colica, Coughs, Aathma, Rhemmatism, Neu ralgia, Whooping Cougs, Gramp Hysteria, 4c.

EXTRACTS FROM MEDICAL OPINIONS. EXTRACTS FROM MEDICAL OPINIONS.

The Hight Hon, Rarl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians, and J. T. Davenport, that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholors was CHLORODYNE.—See Lancet Bec. 31, 1864.
Br. Lowe. Medical Massionary in India, reports (Dec., 1865) that in nourly every case of Cholors in which Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNEYS CHLORODYNE was administered, the patient recovered. BROWNE'S CHLORDDENE was administered, its pairent recovered.

Extract from Medical Times, Jan 12, 1866.—"Chicrolyne is prescribed by secres of orthosiax medical practitioners. Of course it would not thus be singularly popular did it not supply a want and fill a place."

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to the efficacy in Cholara.—"Satironally are we convinced of the intenses value of this remody, that we cannot too forcibly argo the necessity of adopting it in all cases."

CAUTION.—None genuine without the words "Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE" on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimeny accompanies each bottle.

Wherever Bishop Soule's Liniment is known, the People become its advertisers. Its value is estimated by those who have used it at from $5 to $1,000 per bottle. The following are a few items which have come to us, and are of daily securrence:

A man borrowed a part of a bottle of Bishop Soule's Liniment of his neighbor, for immediate use. A few days after, he bought three large bottles, returned a full hottle for the man becomed a set rail his neighbor. MILWAUNEE, WISCONSIN. full bottle for the one borrowed, and told in neighbor that he would not be without Hishop Soule's Liniment in his house if it cost $250 per bottle. Another, who had suffered tweive years from a lame knee, was cured with Bishop Soule's Liniment, and said it was worth $1,000 per bottle. Another, who had suffered many years from lameness, so that be could not walk with-out crutches, writes that he is cured by using Bishop

CHARTERED IN 1888. Has the advantage of Western Rates of Interest. Never lost a follar of its Securities and never falls to pay its Liniment. He had heard it so many times, that he had got out of palience with them, and would buy a bottle, and try it, but he knew it would not do him any good; and whenever any one over recommended it to him again he would tell them he had used it, and it was no better than anything else. Well, he bought one bottle; soon after, two bottles more. He was completely oured of his rheumatism, and although he is not a dealer in medicine, he has bought of as and sold forty-six disces bottles. Another man says: "I thank God, and Bishop Soule's Liniment, that after four years suffering from Sciatica, I am a well man again." Another, "Bishop Soule's Liniment has not only sayed me from a great deal of suffering, but has losses promptly.
